Psychosocial Hazard Awareness Training For Teams

It is crucial for Teams to have an awareness of psychosocial hazards. This is the starting point from which action can be taken. Teams need to be aware of the legal and ethical responsibilities that relate to the specific hazards that may be present in their workplace. This session will help Teams understand the impacts and opportunities related to creating psychosocially safe workplaces.

AWARENESS

- What are the key drivers for change?
- Who is responsible?
- Why has this come about?

1
